

NIH CLINICAL CENTER DIGITAL MEDIA COMMENT POLICY (DISCLAIMER)

Where commenting is supported on this or any other social media owned or administered by the NIH Clinical Center, we encourage the sharing of your thoughts as they relate to the topic being discussed. We review comments according to the policy below. We reserve the right to remove comments that are inconsistent with our policy.

The views expressed in comments reflect those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the official views of the NIH Clinical Center, the National Institutes of Health, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, or other agencies of the federal government.

In posting your comments or other work to a website or social media owned or administered by NIH Clinical Center, you irrevocably grant the NIH Clinical Center permission to copy, distribute, make derivatives, display or perform your work publicly and free-of-charge.

Remember your posts are public. When posting, please do not include information (e.g., social security numbers) in the text of your comment that identifies you in a way you do not intend. Please do not post personal, medical or contact information to us or in response to our posts. Your privacy is important to us. Digital media platforms are public, and other users will be able to view your comments. Additional guidance as to how NIH Clinical Center regards privacy issues can be found at our Privacy and Disclaimer Policy.

All viewpoints are welcome; comments should be relevant to the Clinical Center's posting featured. Be respectful in your comments and aware that personal attacks, profanity, and aggressive behavior is prohibited. Instigating arguments in a disrespectful way is also prohibited. Spreading misleading or false information is prohibited. Do not include spam. Repeated posting of identical or very similar content in a counter-productive manner is prohibited.

As part of a federal agency, the NIH Clinical Center cannot endorse or promote commercial or individual interests or services. In some cases, where the information serves the public good and is consistent with our mission, we may include an outside link to an external resource; however, these need to be examined on a case-by-case basis.

Comments that include the following are prohibited:

- Vulgar, profane, or abusive language; personal attacks of any kind; inappropriate religious, sexual, political, or racial references; unsupported accusations.
- Endorsements of commercial products, services, organizations, or other entities.
- Endorsements of political parties, candidates, or groups.
- Content that infringes on copyrights.
- Solicitation of funds.
- Links to non-federal sites.
- Comments on any ongoing legal investigation.
- Comments on any ongoing clinical trial/scientific investigation.

- Procurement-sensitive information related to any current/future CC acquisitions.
- Reporters' questions – all media inquiries must be directed to the CC OCMR Media Lead.
- Other comments that are deemed inappropriate.

For information on current research studies, go online to the Search the Studies site or call the Office of Patient Recruitment at 1-800-411-1222 (TTY 1-866-411-1010) weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. (EST).

Although all social media sites are monitored and immediate response may not always be possible. For specific questions, please e-mail the Office of Communications and Media Relations.

For questions or additional information related to the Clinical Center's social media, email the Social Media Manager.

Thank you for taking the time to read this comment policy. We encourage your participation in our discussion and look forward to an exchange of ideas.